Twin Cities Ancient Coin Club Meeting Notice

September 24th, 2015. Vol. 55, Number 7

Presentation:

Ancient Themes on Modern Coins

Presented by Jorg Lueke

Ancient coins come in many varieties – from basic and ugly to ornate and beautiful. Some are quite simple while others are loaded with symbolism. This month we'll explore those ancient themes that have resonated over millenia to find themselves on modern coins. Active participation by the club members is encouraged. There will be one or two prizes for the most unique coins shown. Any duplicates will not be counted. Also vague categories such as eagles, portraits, and buildings will not get you any points. The focus is on the modern meaning of these ancient themes. All modern coins and medals are welcome but extra points will be given for circulating legal tender coins, especially one's still circulating today. Some of the questions we will explore are: What is the purpose of the design or theme on the modern coin? What was the first representation in ancient times? How does the coin appeal to a modern audience? If you have any pairs (ancient and modern coin sharing a design) bring those as well. The presentation will be informative, fun, and interactive. Happy Fall!
