TWIN CITIES ANCIENT COIN CLUB MEETING NOTICE

FOR THURSDAY, October 25, 2007 Vol. 47, Number 10

PRESENTATION: " The Art of Greek Coins from a Sculptor's Perspective " by Glenn Terry
We will be examining how in a relatively short period of time, the Greeks created coinage with visual imagery, and then transformed their art from a tradition of archaic representation into one of nearly unsurpassed beauty and idealistic realism. From a sculptor's perspective, we will see how their skills in composition and in modeling form were applied, and perhaps make some connections with the broader arena of Greek sculpture of their times. Failing that, we can at least be assured of some great eye-candy and visual food for the numismatic soul.
